Sinner's Prayer

Heavenly Father, I know that I have sinned against you and that my sins separate me from you. I am truly sorry. I now want to turn away from my past sinful life and turn to you for forgiveness. Please forgive me, and help me avoid sinning again. I believe that your son, Jesus Christ, died for my sins, was resurrected from the dead, is alive, and hears my prayer. I invite Jesus to become the Lord of my life, to rule and reign in my heart from this day forward. Please send your Holy Spirit to help me obey You, and to do Your will for the rest of my life. In Jesus' name I pray, Amen.

STATEMENT OF FAITH

1. We believe that there is one God, eternally existent in three Persons: Father, Son and Holy Spirit.
2. We believe that the Bible is inspired by the Holy Spirit and is the infallible and authoritative Word of God.
3. We believe that mankind was created in the image of God, and because of Adam and Eve's sin, and the continuing sin of every member of the human race, we deserve nothing but death and eternal damnation.
4. We believe in the deity and humanity of our Lord Jesus Christ, in His virgin birth, in His sinless life, in His miracles, in His vicarious and atoning sacrificial death, in His bodily resurrection, in His ascension to the Father, and in His soon coming return in power and glory.
5. We believe that salvation consists in the forgiveness of sins, the imputation of Christ's righteousness, and the gift of eternal life received by faith and not by works.
6. We believe in the present ministry of the Holy Spirit by whose indwelling we are called and empowered to live a godly life, and spread the good news of Jesus Christ.
7. We believe the true Church is composed of all believers in Christ, regardless of denominational affiliation.

Hi! Thank you for picking up this Outreacher and I pray it enriches your walk with God.

It's time for me to write again after an exhausting yet fulfilling month of creating the July Outreacher for you. Have I ever told you that I'm not a writer? I'm an organizer, salesperson etc., but writing makes me struggle. I think about the upcoming month. Okay, I'm writing for the July issue (and June is only half over). Love of country, love of independence, love of freedom...quite often I think of this verse:

Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord,
the people he chose for his inheritance.
PSALM 33:12

Did you know that the Latin word for 'homeland' is patria? Maybe that's where the word 'patriot' or 'patriotic' originated. Something to study! We know this country isn't perfect. But we also know that it's useless to look only for what's wrong with something. For better or worse, here we are amidst millions of Americans and those people are building on the work of millions more who have already come and gone. None of those people were (or are) perfect. But what good things do we share with them? What do we have to be grateful for? What potential do we share? That common good is bigger than any of us—and that's why the Word says that we should honor our country as we honor our father and our mother. This is one of the Ten Commandments.

Isn't it funny how we look at Memorial Day as the start of summer, Independence Day is the middle, and Labor Day is the end of summer? Here we are at the halfway point.

Summer is a busy time of year especially if you have young children involved in sports and other programs but keep in mind the events that can enrich their and your walk with God! The Outreacher certainly doesn't include all that is happening in our area but we do have several things in this issue.

Bible Studies • 4th of July events
Children and family camps
VBS programs • Fundraisers • Book signings
Ways to volunteer • Concerts
Outdoor Performances • Revivals

We can't say there isn't anything to do in our community, can we?

Also, please do business with the advertisers so they keep supporting this magazine you're reading! I'm so thankful for all who keep The Outreacher in print and I pray daily for God's blessings to all who are involved with this publication.

Have a beautiful July and I'll see you next month!

Heroes of 1776: The Story of the Declaration of Independence By Neil Gorsuch and Janie Nitze

This inspiring nonfiction picture book could not have been released at a more perfect time than now as we celebrate the 250th birthday of our nation! Through exciting storytelling based on historical facts, Neil Gorsuch and Janie Nitze delve into the sacrifices and risks made by ordinary men and women who wanted a better life for themselves, their children, and generations to come! Heroes of 1776 is full of firsthand accounts of these courageous patriots of the American Revolution and it provides amazing stories behind the creation of the Declaration of Independence, one of the most important and treasured documents in America's history.

In my opinion, this book is designed for families and learners of all ages and to classify it as only a children's picture book would be a sad mistake. It would definitely be a great addition to school classrooms and libraries, but it's much more than that! While it reminds its readers of iconic figures from this turbulent time, such as Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, and John Hancock, it also introduces us to lesser-known heroes, such as Caesar Rodney, Mary Katharine Goddard, Francis & Elizabeth Lewis, and Richard Stockton.

The words and illustrations used to describe the dangers and losses they endured give a special touch of humanity to these men and women. Imprisonment, financial ruin, illness, loss of loved ones, lack of food and comfort, fear of death yet they persevered through these because they believed in something greater! 250 years later, some of us are hardly aware of their extreme devotion to the hope of creating a free country.

When they signed their names on the Declaration of Independence, they were basically signing a death warrant, but it did not deter them. I have to wonder what we as Americans would be willing to sacrifice if in a situation like this today. I finished the book feeling grateful for what these patriots did so that I can live in freedom and liberty. This quote by John Adams shared at the front of the book should still challenge Americans ... "You will never know how much it cost the present generation to preserve your freedom. I hope you will make a good use of it."

The authors inserted small boxes throughout the book with interesting facts about people and events from this era, but honestly the entire book is full of surprising facts. You will even be pleasantly surprised to find a poster of the Declaration of Independence on the inside of the book jacket! I reread this book several times because I just couldn't put it down! It is both a New York Times and the USA Today #1 Bestseller.

Neil Gorsuch is a current U.S. Supreme Court Justice. He co-authored this book with Janie Nitze who is an attorney at the U.S. Department of Justice. They have written two other bestsellers together as well. Chris Ellison is a well-known artist who has illustrated many historical fiction and children's picture books over the past 30 years.

The Story of Ralph

Ralph has been going to church every Sunday for many years. He has also enjoyed some great friendships with other members and often has coffee with some of his church buddies. People who know Ralph view him as a Christian.

But many of the people who go to church don't seem to be any different from those who don't. It has been said many times that sitting in a church doesn't make you a Christian. In Titus 1:16 Paul describes some people within this church as those who profess that they know God; but in works they deny him. KJV

They could say the right words, but there was no fruit (music) to be seen in their lives.

Ralph believed that he had given his life to Christ. But, in fact, he was not willing to accept the Lord over any area of his life where it might be socially awkward. He did not talk about or mention Jesus while at work or to his family, friends and neighbors.

Frank, one of Ralph's friends, noticed that Ralph doesn't pray before a meal and rarely speaks about Jesus. It became obvious to Frank that Ralph, outside of attending church, had no Christian activities in his life.

Frank shared about his work at a local homeless shelter, and how he and his wife prayed for people who are going through a tough time. He and his wife were taking food to a neighbor who just had surgery. He even talked about supporting missionaries.

Ralph had nothing to share in return.

Wanting to help, he asked, "Ralph, do you believe in the Bible?" Ralph quickly said, "Yes."

Frank told him "God has given you your gifts and talents to serve others and build His kingdom. Whether through teaching, helping or encouraging others, your contributions matter."

So each time they met, or traded emails, Frank shared from the Bible.

For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also. James 2:26 KJV

All the Words, but None of the Music

But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves. James 1:22 KJV

Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed, for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest. Joshua 1:9 KJV

And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart. Jeremiah 29:13 KJV

Frank gave Ralph a card to carry with him:

Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you. And lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Matthew 28:19-20 KJV

Ralph began to realize that he needed to start sharing his Lord and Savior with others. Being reminded about what Jesus has done for him; he began to help others in his life.

Ralph started to live with all the words and now had some of the music!

One of the greatest threats to the church emerges from people inside the church who claim to know the Lord but deceive both themselves and others. Christians everywhere are urgently needed to put their faith into action.

What is Your Calling

John Tindor
Dover, OH

Many people say that they sense a calling on their lives, a calling to accomplish something, to become something, to serve others or their own ambitions. This sense of calling can be found in secular environments as well as in what we consider sacred. People feel called to be teachers, doctors, carpenters, gymnasts—you name it. In the realm of religion and church, the drive to arrive at some position is often referred to as one's calling. It is not uncommon to hear people in ministry state that they were called to ministry. This calling is usually recognized at a time when a person has matured enough to be making vocational choices.

Another kind of calling is direct and vocal, like when a parent calls a child to supper. Too, there is calling as an aspect of making a connection with someone: you call them on the phone, and you call them by name.

Preceding any of the above is another kind of calling, and it is universal. Like a parent calling a child to supper, God the Father calls every one of His children to Himself. In Isaiah 43.1, we see that God calls us His own, I have called thee by name, thou art Mine. That is fantastic! He claims us as His own. We belong to Him. Our calling in life is first and foremost to Him, more that it is to do things for Him. This calling does not expire. It will at all times supersede any other calling that we consider valid for our lives. Our Father's calling began when He chose us in Christ before the foundation of the world...having predestined us unto adoption as children by Jesus Christ to Himself. (see Ep.1.3-5) Many of us recognize this calling when we first believe in Christ, and later we take on tasks and careers that we are sure God has chosen for us. This works well, unless or until such tasks or callings become more important to us than responding to Him as He calls. When Thou said, seek ye My face, my heart said to Thee, Thy face, Lord, I will seek. Ps.27.8

Jesus said, Come to Me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Mt.11.28 When He said that, He meant for us to come and to stay with Him. This is where we start with Jesus, it is where we finish, and it needs to be the entire middle for us. Otherwise, our activities are laborious, tiring, and disappointing.

Any other calling, function, ministry, or sacrifice that we take on will prove to be ineffective without close communion with the Lord. He never meant for us to go it alone. No one is immune to this. Jesus said in Jn.15.5 that without Me ye can do nothing. Nothing!

Many of us tire of our Christian activities; prayer times, church attendance, small groups, giving, serving, preaching, teaching, pastoring, living clean lives, etc. We wonder why God doesn't bless us for all of our Christian efforts. The truth is, He wants us to be blessed and to feel blessed beyond measure, but He won't bless us without seeing His Son in our activities, without seeing that our first and greatest devotion is to Him! Jesus is our first love. Rev.2.4 We come to the Father through Him. Jn 14.6 We need Him more than anything else.

Convenience is Expensive

Sarah Heaston
New Philadelphia, OH

While out grocery shopping recently I needed something quick and easy for lunch, so I stopped at a local convenience store. It seemed inexpensive, but really cost more than normal for the items I purchased. It wasn't as healthy as I would normally prepare lunch. Another time I found myself rushing through my day and needed groceries for two events, so I stopped by the closest store. This grocery store was double the price of the bent-n-dent or less expensive grocery stores I frequent. I pay for this convenience and my grocery budget doesn't go as far because of those spur of the moment shopping choices.

Biblically, convenience often causes compromise, in value or action, which then leads to consequences. In 1 Kings 12 we see Jeroboam as King, and afraid that if his people go to worship in Jerusalem, they will turn back to God and serve God instead of Jeroboam. In response Jeroboam builds two golden calves so the people would stay and worship. He made it "easy" for them to not worship God in the true manner they should. For convenience's sake they were missing out on the blessings on God, and they were in sin. In this case convenience seemed innocent on the surface, but it was dangerous and life altering. In II Kings 17 we see the consequences of their sin, where they as a nation were removed from God's blessings.

Shopping for groceries that are convenient or easy can seem a far cry from Israel in II Kings, but the beginnings were the same. In a world that values convenience, and encourages us to seek whatever is quick and cheap, we should be warned and reminded, by this wisdom from the people of Israel and how they suffered for generations in response to choosing what is convenient and easy, isn't of God. What can seem as a small sin, or an convenience, doesn't really matter in the larger picture can lead to deeper missteps or sin. We begin to rely simply on ourselves and not Christ for our answers and the way forward. "The truth is that every advance that we make for God and for His cause must be made at our inconvenience. If it does not inconvenience us at all, there is no cross in it!"--Anonymous Christian. Take time to really assess what "conveniences" we choose that actually keep up from receiving the blessings God has for us. May we count the cost in choosing to serve what is convenient over choosing to serve God.

The heat outside always seems to crank up in the middle of the summer. I would like to share one of our family's favorite summer desserts that is cool and refreshing. Enjoy!

Strawberry Pretzel Dessert

Dissolve 6 oz of strawberry Jello in 2 cups boiling water, set aside to cool. Melt 12 Tbsp butter, mix in ¼ cup sugar, then mix with 2 cups crushed pretzels (4 cups whole). Pat into 9x13 pan, bake for 10 minutes at 350 and then cool. Use a hand mixer to blend 8 oz cream cheese, ½ cup sugar, then fold in 8 oz Cool Whip and spread over cooled pretzel crust. Hull and slice 1 pound strawberries, stir them into Jello mixture, gently pour over cream cheese layer and chill until ready to serve. Change this recipe up by trying blueberry or even mandarin orange.

Quietness and Strength

Sonya Paul
New Philadelphia, OH

My husband found himself in the hospital recently and it's a new journey. An unexpected one. In times of uncertainty, it's God whom we come to lean on. He is our refuge and our strength. I learned to memorize scripture as a child and it's been in the quiet moments when these scriptures have been of the most support and help.

I have to admit I have discovered the Psalms all over again, most especially Psalms 91. He who dwells in the secret place of the most high shall abide in the shadow of the Almighty. I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress. My God in him will I trust." KJV So when my anxiety has been high, and being human, we cannot help but experience these feelings; I have been running into the secret place of the most high.

Here God assures me of His great love for me and for my husband. He is already in the midst of the battle and helps to calm my deepest fears.

In the quiet places, I'm reminded that the Lord is the one I can trust in all circumstances. He is my refuge. We don't plan for our lives to be interrupted with the storms of life.

Often, we go years without knowing what might happen around the corner, but life is all about happiness and sadness, and knowing that God's arms are always safe and secure. I have hope that the days ahead will be brighter, that God continues to be faithful and that we are ever in the midst of his sheltering dwelling place.

In addition, God gives not only strength in times of uncertainty but also a peace that can pass all of our understanding. So today, if there is that spot of difficulty in your life know that you are safe and secure in the secret place of God's great mercy and love with abiding peace to guide the journey ahead.

Trusting God

Elizabeth Morris
Age 16
Uhrichsville, OH

In today's world, families face many challenges. There are arguments, stress, broken relationships, distractions, and countless things competing for our attention. As teenagers, we see it every day. Sometimes homes feel divided, and it can seem like God is missing from the center of family life. But when we trust God, pray together, and put Him first, He can transform our families in ways we never imagined.

Trusting God is not always easy. There are times when life does not make sense. We may face heartbreak, sickness, family struggles, or uncertainty about the future. Yet God calls us to trust Him even when we cannot see what He is doing. The Bible says: Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways submit to Him, and He will make your paths straight. Proverbs 3:5-6 I have experienced moments when I did not understand why certain things were happening in my life or my family. There were times when fear tried to take over, but God continued to prove that He was faithful. Looking back, I can see His hand guiding me through difficult seasons. Trusting God means believing He is working even when we do not see immediate results. It means choosing faith over fear and hope over doubt.

Many families are busy with work, school, sports, technology, and everyday responsibilities. While these things are not necessarily bad, they can sometimes take God's place. God never intended for families to walk through life without Him. He wants to be at the center of our relationships. Joshua boldly declared: But as for me and my household, we will serve the Lord. Joshua 24:15 When God is welcomed into a family, everything begins to change. Forgiveness becomes possible. Love grows stronger. Peace replaces chaos. Families learn to support one another. Putting God back in our families can simply be reading the Bible together, praying as a family, attending church together, encouraging one another in faith, and trusting God during difficult situations. No family is perfect, but God can work through imperfect people who are willing to seek Him.

Prayer is one of the greatest gifts God has given us. It is more than just words—it is a direct conversation with our Heavenly Father. Many people view prayer as a last resort, but it should be our first response. Prayer invites God into our situations and reminds us that we are not fighting our battles alone. The Bible says: Do not be anxious about anything, but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. — Philippians 4:6 Prayer has the power to bring comfort during pain, strength during weakness, and peace during uncertainty. It can heal relationships, restore hope, and strengthen families. James 5:16 reminds us: The prayer of a righteous person is powerful and effective. When families pray together, they grow together. Prayer helps us focus on God instead of our problems and reminds us that no situation is too difficult for Him.

As teenagers, we have the opportunity to be a generation that brings God back into our homes. We do not have to wait until we are older to live for Christ. We can pray now, trust God now, and encourage our families now. God is still healing families. He is still answering prayers. He is still working miracles. No matter what your family looks like today, God can restore what is broken and strengthen what is weak. Seek first His kingdom and His righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well. Matthew 6:33

When God is at the center of a family, hope returns, faith grows, and lives are changed forever.

Values and Truth

Matt Ritzert
Dover, OH

Jesus Christ proclaimed, “I am the way, the truth, and the life.” But our secular world today has lost its way, redefining truth to align with personal opinion and living a life of convenience designed to satisfy individual pleasures and passions. Our moral compass is broken. We’re off course and lost.

Conduct a Google search or browse the self-improvement section in a bookstore and you will find a dizzying array of books, articles and programs describing how to discern and determine your core values. That’s fine and good. There is nothing inherently wrong about conducting a self-assessment in trying to live a life based on important values such as honesty, kindness, and responsibility. Too often, however, those values are revised over time as social trends evolve and change. While assessing our values, we neglect something more powerful, more important, more basic than values - natural law. Since the times of Aristotle and Cicero, philosophical writers have acknowledged a natural, moral law that suggests the existence of universal moral principles which can be discerned through reason. Over time, St. Thomas Aquinas and others concluded that this natural, moral law is an immutable, unchangeable divine gift.

In his book Making Choices, Peter Kreeft writes, “Values come from us; laws come to us. We invent values, but we are under laws. Values are nice ideals to aspire to if we wish; laws tell us what we ought to do whether we like it or not.” We can establish our own set of values. We can conduct value assessments and exercise to discern what is most important to us as individuals. Those values, however, are not as fundamental as the God-given laws written in our hearts. Values are relative. Values can change. Moral laws are objective truths which are absolute and never change. While there is nothing wrong with establishing a personal set of values to live by, those values should be based on objective truth. Cheating is wrong, whether it’s a school test or adultery. Stealing is wrong, whether it’s taking something we believe we deserve or robbing a bank. Forgiving others is right, whether the other person is worthy of our forgiveness or not.

Whether we consider ourselves religious or spiritual, natural, moral law is embedded deep in our core and supersedes culture, race, or religious orientation. What is right is right. What is wrong is wrong. Killing is wrong. Stealing is wrong. Cheating is wrong. We know that in our hearts. These are moral laws given to us from a source beyond us. Moral law is implanted in our hearts by God. It is unchanging, irrevocable.

Kreeft writes further, “To do as you please is not morality, to do what you want is not morality. Morality is not optional, like a “value,” but obligatory, like a law. Morality calls us to a higher standard, a standard that sometimes requires sacrifice and giving to the other.”

How do we elevate our values to God-given natural, moral law? The Ten Commandments are a good place to start. Place God above all things. Love your neighbor, even if that love is not returned. Do not covet another’s possessions. Honor your mother and father. In addition to the Ten Commandments, we are graced with the gift of the Theological Virtues of faith, hope, and love. We have the Cardinal Virtues of prudence, justice, fortitude, and self-control. We have the Beatitudes to help us turn our focus from ourselves to the other. We have the words of Jesus, “I am the way, the truth and the life.” One way. One truth. One life.

Morality calls us to a higher standard, a standard that sometimes requires sacrifice and giving to the other.

7¹⁻² As Solomon finished praying, fire flashed down from heaven and burned up the sacrifices! And the glory of the Lord filled the Temple, so that the priests couldn't enter! ³ All the people had been watching, and now they fell flat on the pavement and worshiped and thanked the Lord.

"How good he is!" they exclaimed. "He is always so loving and kind."

⁸ For the next seven days they celebrated the Tabernacle Festival, with large crowds coming in from all over Israel; they arrived from as far away as Hamath at one end of the country to the brook of Egypt at the other. ⁹ A final religious service was held on the eighth day. ¹⁰ Then on October 7 he sent the people home, joyful and happy because the Lord had been so good to David and Solomon and to his people Israel.

¹¹ So Solomon finished building the Temple as well as his own palace. He completed what he had planned to do.

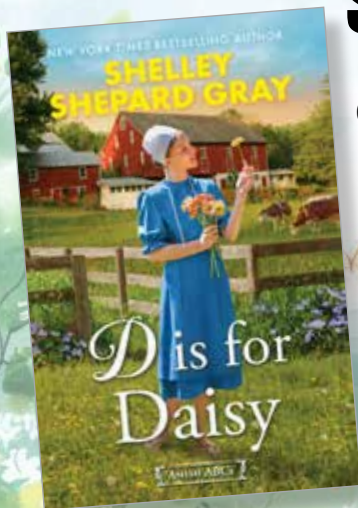

¹² One night the Lord appeared to Solomon and told him, "I have heard your prayer and have chosen this Temple as the place where I want you to sacrifice to me. ¹³ If I shut up the heavens so that there is no rain, or if I command the locust swarms to eat up all of your crops, or if I send an epidemic among you, ¹⁴ then if my people will humble themselves and pray, and search for me, and turn from their wicked ways, I will hear them from heaven and forgive their sins and heal their land. ¹⁵ I will listen, wide awake, to every prayer made in this place. ¹⁶ For I have chosen this Temple and sanctified it to be my home forever; my eyes and my heart shall always be here.

HOPE in the Midst of Crisis

Diane Kalajainen
New Castle, PA

Iran continues to dominate our news. We are hoping for a resolution soon. Families there live in uncertainty and under difficult circumstances. The ministry, Vision Beyond Borders, in their April newsletter stated, "Behind these headlines are real people—mothers, fathers, and young people who are weary of the oppression they have lived under for years."

Also, during the demonstration there were heartbreaking events. I want to further share this statement from the same newsletter (mentioned above). "A mother whose son had been killed during the protests was told that before she could receive his body, she would have to pay for the bullet that had been used. In her grief, she said she would never return to a mosque again."

Can you imagine the horror that mother went through? Many times, these stories do not make national news, and we need to be aware of the great suffering these people experienced. When I read the following from the April issue of Iran Alive ministry, my heart was greatly touched.

I hope that this may give the readers an in-depth view of these precious people. Many Iranians are our brothers and sisters in Christ.

From this April issue of Iran Alive, we read about the story of a young woman, Mahsa. She married Mehdi because he was a kind and gentle man, and he led her to faith in Christ. He believed in freedom and justice. Therefore, he went into the streets to protest. One day he didn't return home. Why? He was fatally shot by security forces. This young couple was only married a year!

Mahsa was completely devastated. However, something miraculous happened forty days after his death. She saw Mehdi, her husband, in a dream. These are her words. "He was standing right there in front of me. He was peaceful, radiant...and said 'Mahasa, my heart has been healed.'"

With teary words Mahsa asked, "Why did you leave me? Why did you leave me behind?" Her husband replied, "Don't cry. I am alive. God has taken me into His embrace. Here, we have no pain." Mahsa still misses and grieves her loss. But she has peace and courage now. She exhorts us by saying, "Love, faith, and hope are stronger than bullets."

We need to remember that dreams are important in the Middle East. Many have come to Christ through visions and dreams. We need to pray for the people of Iran especially our brothers and sisters. Many Iranians have suffered for their faith. The country is in turmoil but God is still at work!

Pastor Nathan J. Elliott
Sun City, AZ

Here we are in June of 2026 and it seems like we're all living in the midst of a 21st century Sodom and Gomorrah. We're living in the very midst of Satan's system, which is also called the curse. The state of our nation and world has just gone crazy, we're still dealing with the effects of white supremacy which comes against all those who are from a different race. From one day to the next our world is constantly changing. We just got done celebrating Black History Month, but to some, that's not important, but all forms of history are important, especially when one race attempts to erase or remove another!

From one day to today we have killings, murder, sometimes race riots. This hatred is against different races or whatever, but this hatred has to stop, the killing has to stop! Kids killing kids, black against black, and just the random acts of violence in general. All of this must stop, but how? Will marching do it? Or writing letters to our heads of government, will this do it? By doing these things may change a few things, but the bottom line is that we're still in this curse, still affected by the effects of it, so what have you gained? We're in the midst of a "spiritual war", and the things of the physical don't affect this war.

To overcome the negative effects of this "spiritual war", you have to be in the Spirit to do it. It's hard to even tell what century we're in, is the year 1930, or is it really 2026? Did we wake up in Germany of the 30's, or again, is this U S of A of 2026. It's hard to tell, at times. As we live in this 21st century every day we draw closer to the return of our true King and Savior, Jesus Christ. Are you ready? Because He's coming back for a body that resembles Himself! This isn't a mindset or a religion or denomination; He's coming back for something far greater! Not something that's physical like the things we're use too, but something that's spiritual, someone that resembles Himself! God's Word says in (Ro.12:1,2KJV), that we, the followers of the Lord, are to present our bodies, every part, to be a living sacrifice to God, holy, this is who we are! We're also told, not to conform ourselves to this world or its standards, why? Simple, this world system is connected to Satan's curse, and it leads to bondage and slavery!

Jesus, through His act of obedience at Calvary, has given to us a new life, that's in the Spirit, and by accepting His sacrifice, all of our sins against God has been paid, our past, the present and even our future is paid in full! The Blood of Christ freed us from the sin and bondage and slavery, so now we can rejoice in ours and yours, Freedom!

In Memory of....

Thomas Lauber

Richard Thomas "Tom" Lauber, age 91, passed away on June 1, 2026 after a period of declining health. Born at home in Archbold, OH on April 13, 1935, Tom was the second of five children to Richard and Mary Etta (Dominique) Lauber.

Tom entered the US Army in 1954 following a stellar academic and athletic career at Archbold High. He returned from Germany in 1955 to attend Ohio State University on the GI Bill where he intended to pursue a degree in architecture. Cupid intervened in the form of a farm girl named Betty Lou Patterson. They eloped to Indiana their freshman year. A succession of four children followed as they returned to Betty's hometown of Millersburg OH.

Tom landed a job as teller of the Monitor Bank in Big Prairie. After distinguishing himself at Killbuck Savings, the First National Bank of Massillon recruited him in 1964, electing him as CEO in 1965. Look Magazine profiled him as the youngest president of a nationally chartered bank in US history.

In 1978, Tom left banking to try his hand at manufacturing by acquiring Tusco Manufacturing in Gnadenhutten, OH. He and Betty realized their dream of helping each of their four children acquire and develop businesses of their own. Tom and Betty retired to Naples FL.

In 2003, the family lost Betty to cancer in March and son Mark to leukemia in May. Tom connected with high school classmate and fellow widow Barbara Christy Schie whom he married in July 2004.

In addition to his wife Barbara and brothers Ed (Bonnie) and Bob, Tom is survived by sons Mike (Elizabeth), Patrick (Jennifer), daughter Mary Ann Lauber, daughter-in-law Kathy Lauber, and stepdaughter Susan (David) McDaniel. Tom and Betty had 13 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren. Virtually all gathered to celebrate Tom and Barbara at Sauder Village in July 2025.

Tom engaged in philanthropy throughout his life, giving generously to causes in every community in which he lived. In lieu of flowers, the family asks that contributions be made to Sauder Village (saudervillage.org) or a charity of their own choosing.

Online condolences may be offered to the family at www.grisierfh.com. The Grisier Funeral Home of Archbold was honored to serve the Lauber family.

The obituary for Tom was lovingly prepared by his family.

FRIENDS of the Homeless

OF TUSCARAWAS COUNTY

In the middle of the night, a man sleeps alone in his bed with anticipating what the next day may bring. But a sudden presence comes over him and speaks about an absurd request, one the man never considered, or thought would be possible: to build a house meant to comfort and aid those whom the world has forgotten about. A simple message, one which the man could never shake off until it became a reality.

This is a recounting of how a man, Jack Ream, heard the voice of the divine and was lead on a journey of understanding, discovery, and awe for how the LORD envisioned his people in Tuscarawas County to work. Starting simply, Jack worked with Trinity Episcopal Church in New Philadelphia to open their doors to people who had nothing. To make the church accessible and prove that place was truly "a house of prayer for all peoples". It started small, with a few people volunteering, and a few others sleeping in the pews. But it pulled back a layer of need in the community no one understood and many ignored.

In 2003 Jack formalized that vision through a board with people from many churches, community organizations and agencies, to form the Friends of the Homeless of Tuscarawas County. In 2005, a shelter was established on the property of First Presbyterian Church. It was chaotic, uncertain, and small for the pressing need. But Jack was still influenced by that divine visitor to meet the needs of people first, people who had nothing, and whom no one else could provide answers. As a dedicated team and staff slowly assembled, it became clear that a next step was needed. In 2021 work started on the construction of a dedicated facility for this mission.

Jack brought together more community members and volunteers who had the practical knowhow to make it possible. They faced setbacks and disappointments, but all the while kept to the same mantra of serving the LORD by serving people in need. April 23, 2026 was the date when it all came together with the dedication of a facility inspired by one man's vision:

Jack's House of Hope.

Many who have served in the years-long task of capital fundraising, designing, program and operations, and outreach had doubts about if we had what was necessary to build a facility to meet the needs of what seems like an overwhelming problem. But we have learned through the eyes of the guests coming through the door that homelessness is more than just someone sleeping in an alley. It is insecurity, fear, lack of hospitality, and treating people as projects and statistics. They are people like us with the same anxieties, disappointments, hopes, and desires who simply want to see life as worth living and not an endless trudge to endure. Its has been said that the Friends of the Homeless is more than just a shelter, because it meets more than what the body needs. It deals with people first, how they are hurting, and how divine love can provide what is necessary to see the next day as worth looking forward to.

The shelter stands to help the Church (in all traditions and forms it may take) to understand and know what real impactful service can look like. Volunteers serve alongside guests, caring for the building, aiding programing, buying supplies and non-perishables, and providing support when people cannot stand on their own. Friends of the Homeless, the new Jack's House of Hope, is a home for everyone to come in and realize who they are and what they can offer to restore people back to their ideal divine-crafted image. To live out what Jack saw that night and realize the opportunity to serve beyond what we can imagine.

Free Meal for the Community

Saturday, July 11, 4:30p-6p

During the 10th anniversary reunion of Cleveland's 2016 American League champion baseball team, former Cleveland Indians pitcher and current Rainbow Connection Executive Director Perci Garner bragged about what he's doing 10 years after the team's World Series run.

"I told them all about Rainbow," Garner said. "All of my former teammates are doing really cool things, and it was great to involve both Rainbow Connection and Tuscarawas County in that conversation."

Rainbow Connection is an independent nonprofit health charity dedicated to assisting Tuscarawas County's disabled and disadvantaged residents and the schools and nonprofits that serve them. During the April and May meetings of its Board of Directors, the organization awarded 31 households and 4 nonprofit agencies with more than $90,000.00 in support. Assistance included funding for hearing aids, medical bills, medical equipment, prescriptions, transportation to long-distance medical appointments, dental bills, medical alert devices, school accessibility equipment, and other health and medical expenses.

To help support their ongoing mission, Rainbow Connection recently received a $2,500.00 grant from The African American Community Fund. In partnership with the Foundation for Appalachian Ohio (FAO), this grant is awarded to Black-led or Black-serving organizations in Ohio's 32 Appalachian Ohio counties who are spearheading efforts that create opportunities, meet pressing needs, and unleash the potential within local communities.

"We are really proud to be recognized with this grant," Garner said. "When we relieve casework of large medical expenses, we, of course, provide them with what they need medically to move forward with their lives. We also give them hope and a reminder that the entire community came together to support them. It's not just a hearing aid, a prosthetic, or access to a lifechanging therapy: our assistance is a tool needed to reach their full potential."

To further address the needs of their disadvantaged clients, Rainbow Connection recently received assistance with a financial literacy project led by Leadership Tuscarawas class members Andrew Burrell of Timken, Andrea Tyson of Little Caesar's and ECOESC, Chris Pleska of The Commercial & Savings Bank, and Erin Wright of Ohio Mideastern Governments Asso

"We can't provide financial advice, and our assistance is limited to health and medical expenses," said Board President Karon Baker. "We hope this project will allow our clients to make financial decisions toward a more independent, self-sufficient future."

Thank to this project, visitors to Rainbow Connection's website will soon have access to financial literacy courses and information from Banzai and DoverPhila Federal Credit Union. Additionally, all members of Rainbow Connection's casework now receive a copy of their monthly household budget as reported to the agency and community resources to access additional aid.

Rainbow Connection's board of directors meets regularly to review and approve casework. If you or someone you know resides in Tuscarawas County and needs assistance with a health or medical expense, call 330.343.8686 or visit tuscainbow.org.

HICKS INDUSTRIAL ROOFING

250 Happy Birthday U.S.A.

We are so grateful for every person and family that has made it possible, and for the great privilege of living our lives in this wonderful land. So very grateful for our own ancestors that fled Ukraine and Bolshevik Revolution, and every other ancestor that left home for the unknown promises of America.

It's hard to believe that for nearly one third of our Nation's history, Hicks Industrial Roofing has been protecting our customers hard earned assets with honest, dependable service and the best of roofing products available. The most valuable thing our customers can give is their TRUST. We don't take it lightly and we are so grateful for it.

Will these United States of American survive another 250 years, or even another generation? Only our Heavenly Father knows for sure. Thank you to every person that has sacrificed their time, their money, their vision, their lives to found, grow and protect these United States. We are in a tumultuous time. I believe it's time for all Christians to put scripture and faith to the test and, "Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house. Test me in this," says the Lord Almighty, "and see if I will not throw open the floodgates of heaven and pour out so much blessing that there will not be room enough to store it." Mal. 3:10 NIV

Oh, what a revival we might see if all who proclaim the name of the Lord were to live their faith, financially.

May you, and this great Nation be Blessed.

HICKS.

IT'S A TRADITION, NOT A DESCRIPTION.
